WASHINGTON, April 2, 1866.

By the President of the United States:

PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS, By proclamations on the fifteenth and nineteenth of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, the President of the United States, in virtue of the power vested in him by the Constitution and the Laws, declared that the laws of the United States were opposed, and the execution thereof obstructed, in the States of South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, Louisiana, and Texas, by combinations too powerful to be suppressed by the ordinary course of judicial proceedings, or by the powers vested in the Marshals by law; and,

Whereas, By another proclamation made on the sixteenth day of August, in the same year, in pursuance of an act of Congress, approved July thirteenth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, the inhabitants of Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida, except the inhabitants of that part of the State of Virginia lying west of the Alleghany Mountains, and of such other parts of the State, and the other States before named as might maintain a loyal adhesion to the Union and the Constitution, or might be from time to time occupied and controlled by the forces of the United States, engaged in the dispersion of insurgents, were declared to be in a state of insurrection against the United States; and,

Whereas, By another proclamation made on the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-two, issued in pursuance of an act of Congress, approved June seventh, in the same year, the insurrection was declared to be still existing in the States aforesaid, with the exception of certain specified counties in the State of Virginia; and,

Whereas, By another proclamation made on the second day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-three, in pursuance of the act of Congress of July thirteenth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, the exceptions named in the proclamation of August sixteenth, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, were revoked, and the inhabitants of the States of Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Texas, Arkansas, Mississippi, Florida and Virginia, except the forty-eight counties of Virginia designated as West Virginia, and the ports of New Orleans, Key West, Port Royal, and Beaufort in South Carolina, were declared to be in a state of insurrection against the United States; and,

Whereas, The House of Representatives, on the twenty-second day of July, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-one, adopted a resolution in the words following, viz.:

Resolved, By the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, That the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the country by the disunionists of the Southern States, now in revolt against the Constitutional Government, and in arms around the capital, that in this national emergency Congress, banishing all feelings of mere passion or resentment, will recollect only its duty to the whole country; that this war is not waged on our part in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor for the purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights of established institutions of those States, but to maintain and defend the supremacy of the Constitution, and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; and, that as soon as these objects are accomplished, the war ought to cease.

Whereas, The Senate of the United States, on the 25th day of July, 1861, adopted a resolution in the words following; viz:

Resolved, That the present deplorable civil war has been forced upon the country by the disunionists of the Southern States now in revolt against the Constitutional Government, and in arms around the Capital; that in this national emergency, Congress, banishing all feelings of mere passion or resentment, will recollect only its duty to the whole country; that this war is not prosecuted on our part in any spirit of oppression, nor for any purpose of conquest or subjugation, nor for the purpose of overthrowing or interfering with the rights or established institutions of those States, but to defend and maintain the supremacy of the Constitution, and all laws made in pursuance thereof, and to preserve the Union with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; that as soon as these objects are accomplished, the war ought to cease; and

Whereas, These resolutions, though not joint or concurrent in form, are substantially identical, and as such may be regarded as having expressed the sense of Congress upon the subject to which they relate; and,

Whereas, By my proclamation of the 13th day of June last, the insurrection in the State of Tennessee was declared to have been suppressed, the authority of the United States therein to be undisputed, and such United States officers as had been duly commissioned to be in the undisputed exercise of their official functions; and,

Whereas, There now exists no organized armed resistance of misguided citizens or others to the authority of the United States in the States of Georgia, South Carolina, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida, and the laws can be sustained and enforced therein by the proper civil authority, State or Federal, and the people of the said States are well and loyally disposed, and have conformed, or will conform, in their legislation, to the condition of affairs growing out of the amendment to the Constitution of the United States, prohibiting slavery within the limits and jurisdiction of the United States; and

Whereas, In view of the before recited premises, it is the manifest determination of the American people, that no State of its own will has the right or power to go out of, or separate from the American Union, and that therefore each State ought to remain and constitute an integral part of the United States; and

Whereas, The people of the several before-mentioned States have in the manner aforesaid given satisfactory evidence that they acquiesce in this sovereign and important revolution of the national unity; and

Whereas, It is believed to be a fundamental principle of government that the people who have revolted, and who have been overcome and subdued, must either be dealt with so as to induce them voluntarily to become friends, or else they must be held by absolute military power, or devastated, so as to prevent them from ever again doing harm as enemies; which last-named policy is abhorrent to humanity and freedom; and

Whereas, The Constitution of the United States provides for constitutional communities only as States, and not as territories, dependencies, provinces or protectorates; and

Whereas, Such constituent States must necessarily be, and by the Constitution and laws of the United States are made equals, and placed on a like footing as to political rights, immunities, dignity and power with the several States with which they are united; and

Whereas, The observance of political equality as a principle of right and justice is well calculated to encourage the people of the aforesaid States to be and become more and more constant and persevering in their renewed allegiance; and

Whereas, Standing armies, military occupation, martial law, military tribunals, and the suspension of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, are, in time of peace, dangerous to public liberty, incompatible with the individual rights of the citizens, contrary to the genius and spirit of our free institutions, and exhaustive of the national resources, and ought not, therefore, to be sanctioned or allowed, except in cases of actual necessity for repelling invasion or suppressing insurrection or rebellion; and

Whereas, The policy of the Government of the United States, from the beginning of the insurrection to its overthrow and final suppression, has been in conformity with the principles herein set forth and enumerated.

Therefore I, Andrew Johnson, President of the United States, do hereby proclaim and declare that the insurrection which heretofore existed in the States of Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi and Florida is at an end, and henceforth to be so regarded.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States to be affixed.

Done at the City of Washington, the Second day of April, in the year of our Lord One Thousand Eight Hundred and Sixty-six, and of the Independence of the United States of America the Ninetieth.

ANDREW JOHNSON.

By the President, WILLIAM H. SEWARD, Secretary of State.

SALISBURY BRASS BAND.

REORGANIZED on January 18, 1866, under the direction of the former leader, W. H. NEAVE, and will furnish music for Balls and Parties in the Lee's army. He will be assisted in leading the Band by his brother, Ed. Neave, late drum major of the 49th N. C. Band and is encouraged that the best members of the old Band together with the best musicians of several of the fine Bands trained by W. H. Neave, in camps and have moved to various parts of the State to find business, will receive the warmest encouragement and will spare no time to be found in the world, if trained by the old strong full power of Brass and String music, of which it was good warrant this year.

W. H. Neave is about to be celebrated Dodworth Band instruments, moved and presented to him, and by his brother's aid, the most attractive, effective and popular Pieces music selected by his friends.

H. B. Dodworth and Kit Burdett, New York. For beginners, amateurs players, and advanced musicians, no trash for either.

Music composed and arranged to order for Parlor, Orchestral and Brass Band use for any kind and number of instruments.

Quadrilles can be selected for Musical Headquarters for the central position.

N. B. Any persons enquiry for musical information, but with no view to business with Mr. Neave or Band, must contain two cents stamps.

AGAIN has the pleasure to inform his old friends of his new friends—his old customers and new customers, and every body else that wants Goods, that he has just returned from the North, where he selected with great care, and with an eye single to their wants, one of the largest and most complete stocks of he ever had the pleasure to offer them, either during or since the war.

A large and beautiful assortment of embracing the newest and leading styles of the season.

Ladies' Dress Goods,

A large assortment of

Gentlemen's, Youths' and Boys' Goods,
Ladies' Summer Wrappings,
Ladies, Misses and Children's Trimmed Hats, new shapes,

Gents, Boys and Children's Straw, Leghorn, Braid and Pedlar Hats for Summer,
Crockery and Glass Ware,
Wood and Willow Ware, together with a good stock of notions.

FAMILY GROCERIES, &c.

In fact, in a few days my stores will be complete. Now I don't pretend to say that I am selling at New York prices. In my numerous dealings I do like to have humbuggery. But I say, I have no doubt of selling cheap. I expect to sell as cheap, and I say I will sell as cheap as any Yankee. Jew or Gentile, who has just for his goods or ever expects to pay for them. Cost Scores not excepted. To prove what I say, and what I mean, I respectfully ask my friends and the public to call and examine my stock at the old Rand Smith Building, corner of Fayetteville and Hargett street.

The Proclamation.

We have the pleasure of directing the attention of our readers to the great Proclamation of the President, which will be found on our first page, this morning.

In alluding to it, on yesterday, we expressed the opinion, based upon the meagre telegraphic synopsis which had reached us, that it did not, of itself, restore the privileges of Habeas Corpus, and provide for the abrogation of martial law and of military tribunals. A careful reading of the document, however, induces us to change that opinion. The general construction placed upon the proclamation by the Northern press is that it secures at once these desirable results, and the construction is warranted by its phraseology. The President, after declaring that "standing armies, military occupation, martial law, military tribunals, and the suspension of the privilege of the writ of habeas corpus, are, in time of peace, dangerous to public liberty, incompatible with the individual rights of the citizens, contrary to the genius and spirit of our free institutions, and exhaustive of the national resources, and ought not therefore to be sanctioned or allowed," then goes on emphatically to proclaim that the "insurrection is at an end," that peace is fully restored, and that "it is henceforth to be so REGARDED." The clear implication would appear to BE that all the concomitants of a state of peace, mentioned by the President, are fully restored, that the unity of the Republic is no longer to be defended by the sword, and that the liberties of the people are resumed under the guardianship of civil law. In a word, the work of re-construction is complete, so far as it lies in the power of the States and of the President; and it only now remains for Congress to admit the representatives of the Southern States, in order to remand the Union to its original completeness.

The event is epochal, and the President, by this Proclamation, has earned a fame which will live through all coming time. When the fanatical and mousing politicians, who are assailing and laboring to defeat his noble policy, shall have been forgotten, or shall be remembered only to be loathed, his great name will be enshrined in the affections of a great and re-united people.

ANOTHER THRUST AT THE PRESIDENT.—The Standard says that "Gen. Hawley, the Union candidate, has been elected, in Connecticut, by a small majority." It is well known that Hawley opposed the restoration policy of the President, and that the President favored the election of Mr. English, who warmly endorsed that policy. It is also well known that Radical members of Congress have been stumping the State for weeks in opposition to Mr. English and President Johnson. And yet, Hawley is the "Union" candidate, forsooth! In what category does the Standard place Mr. English,—the President's favorite? Was he the disunion candidate? And is the President's policy a destruction policy? The Standard is as mad as a March hare, but, in this instance, there is some "method in its madness." It winks at Radicalism over the President's shoulders.

The President, in his Proclamation, quotes the resolutions of Congress, in July 1862, to the effect that the war was being prosecuted solely "to defend and maintain the supremacy of the constitution and all laws made in pursuance thereof, and to preserve the Union, with all the dignity, equality and rights of the several States unimpaired; that as soon as these objects are accomplished the war ought to cease." Nothing could be more emphatic or positive than this. But there was one Representative, who believed that even this did not go far enough as to the preservation of the States, and who therefore desired to go further. This was the now infamous Thad. Stevens, of Pennsylvania. On December 4, 1865, he offered in Congress resolutions declaring that "the Union must be and remain one and indivisible forever;" and also that "if any person in the employment of the United States, in either the legislative or executive branch, should propose to make peace, or should advise the acceptance of any such proposition, on any other basis than the integrity and entire unity of the United States and their Territories, as they existed at the time of the rebellion, he will be guilty of a high crime."

Exactly so.

GOLD CLOSED in New York, on the 4th., at 139. Cotton again declining, with sales of 900 bales at 39@40 cents.

"Beauty of the Joke."

The Standard, of yesterday, true to its instincts unblushingly asserts that "all the harsh articles in relation to Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson, that appeared in the Standard, from May 1861, to March 1863, were written by the Rev. W. E. Pell, Senior Editor of the Sentinel, then employed as Assistant Editor of the Standard."

What if we did write them,—does that relieve W. W. Holden, the only responsible editor of the Standard, during that period? We wrote a good deal during that time, and we had then no special regard for Abraham Lincoln or Andrew Johnson, but we wrote for the editor.—We had no responsibility, and all our articles, except in his absence from the city, were submitted to him for approval, correction, modification or rejection. Whatever, therefore, he placed in the hands of the printer, written as editorial for him, he endorsed and is responsible for.

Moreover, what we wrote, we have never denied, nor have we attempted to screen ourself from the odium which may attach to our articles. We have never eaten our words, nor hypocritically and falsely said we wrote under duress or from fear. We wrote then, as we write now, what we honestly believed to be true and just, without fear and with no hope of reward.

But the above statement is a fabrication, and the writer knew it to be such when he penned it. There is not a quotation from the Standard, published in the Sentinel of the 4th. inst., which came from our pen, or was suggested by us, except, perhaps, the one dated the 29th. of May, 1861. It is possible that article was written by us, but we are positively certain all the rest were written by W. W. Holden, Esq., while editor of the Standard. None of the rest partake of our style or spirit, and they are so characteristic of the spirit and style of Mr. Holden, he astounds us by his declaration. We, therefore, make the issue of veracity directly with him, and declare the above declaration of his to be false.

We back down from no position we have ever taken, until we are convinced of our error, and we assume the whole responsibility of all we have ever said or written, but our back is not broad enough to bear the iniquities of so great a sinner as W. W. Holden. We never uttered or penned the apostrophe, "Oh Abram! Abram! &c." We never applied the epithets, "Knave, fool and tyrant" to any one. We never wrote, "Lincoln is as wicked and bloody a tyrant as the Emperor of Austria." We never called Edward Everett the most elegant devil out of perdition. We never wrote "who will plot for the heads of Abe Lincoln and General Scott?" But they are the words of, and were written by, W. W. Holden, and no one else, at the time they appeared in the Standard. But why this defence? Every reader of the Standard knows they emanated from the brain and heart of its editor.

Fractional Truths.

A Radical concern, published in Cincinnati, gives the subjoined distorted summary of Gen. LEE'S testimony before the so called Reconstruction Committee. It would be a waste of time to go to the trouble of fastening falsehood upon a Radical sheet. Not, therefore, for the purpose of exposing a lie, but simply with a view of showing how many can be crowded into a single paragraph, we quote the following:

"I. That the people of Virginia did not, and do not, consider their rebellion as treason against the United States.

II. That he and the people of Virginia generally look upon their allegiance to their State as paramount to their allegiance to the Union, and believe that a State can absolve its individual members of their allegiance to the general government.

III. That the rebellion was not one of individuals, but of States.

IV. That the northern men are so much disliked that they are ostracised in southern society.

V. That colored men would not be allowed to vote in Virginia.

VI. That no jury could be found in Virginia to convict Jeff. Davis.

VII. That the rebels endorse Andrew Johnson's policy.

VIII. That General Lee never reads a newspaper."

1. The question was not asked Gen. Lee as to whether he regards the "rebellion" as treason. All that he said, in this connection, was that he had no knowledge of what others think about it.

2. Nothing of the kind occurs in the testimony.

3. Not alluded to in the evidence.

4. The word ostracism is not used. Gen. Lee simply says that he supposes they would prefer not to associate with Northern men.

5. He says that whether Virginia would allow the negro to vote would depend upon her interests,—that white Virginians would not like it, were suffrage forced on negroes in that State by some other power than that of Virginia.

6. Gen Lee says he does not know what a Jury would do.

7. He says nothing about "rebels" endorsing the President's policy, but that he thinks the success of that policy will result in a restoration of fraternity and amity.

8. This is the only one not a positive falsehood. It is only partially true, for the General said he scarcely ever reads the papers.

Taking the eight assertions, and we find seven of them and about eight-tenths of the remaining one to be deliberate and malignant inventions. This is a fair average of the amount of truth obtained by readers of radical sheets, North and South,—two-tenths of one-eighth true, and seven-eighths of all and eight-tenths of the other eighth false.

Freedmen's Bureau.

In connection with the President's Proclamation, it is to be noted that, by the terms of the act creating it, the Freedmen's Bureau can legally exist for only one year more from its date. That is, unless Congress shall provide for its further continuance,—one attempt to accomplish which the President has already frustrated.

Immigration.

The Charlotte Times states that a meeting will be held in that place, on the 10th inst., to consider the best means of securing immigration to this State.

We regard this as a highly important measure, but it requires great care and large information to succeed in the enterprise. It is of the first importance to the State, that all our available lands should be reduced to a high state of cultivation at the earliest day. Were our lands skillfully cultivated, our mines worked, our water-power brought into requisition in the establishment of factories, our foundries and work-shops all in motion, under skillful and well-trained labor, in twenty years there would not be a trace of the war left, except in the loss of our sons and the appearance of the maimed still among us. Debts, either public or private, would not disturb us, and every thing would work like a charm.

Labor is what we want—energetic, skillful labor of all kinds, but especially agricultural and mechanical labor. We wholly ignore the prejudice which may exist against foreign labor or labor from the North, if we can get the right kind.

But our information obliges us to guard our people against the labor obtained by the Agencies now existing at different points. The mass of the importations of laborers from Europe, recently, has been of the worst kind. They are almost totally demoralized by their habits in Europe. Large numbers have been connected with the European armies and with the works of internal improvement, and have become so unsettled, that they will not remain at any place long enough to fill a contract.

So far, the experience of our planters in Warren, Halifax, Edgecombe, and other counties, has been a failure. Numbers of foreigners brought into the State have left in a few weeks, objecting to our climate, mode of culture and habits. These persons have been of the class above spoken of. Hence, if we get labor from abroad, be sure that it is not of the demoralized class of the labor-population of the North or of Europe.

We want to see coming into the State thorough-bred farmers and mechanics, for the purpose of locating permanently among us, as such. We need them, and they should be encouraged to come among us. But our chief reliance for labor must be from the laboring people at home. Large numbers of our white population must be tillers of the soil. Our poor boys must be taught to be scientific and skillful farmers and mechanics. If the colored people shall prove themselves to be reliable as laborers in their new condition, they must be taught in the same way. But we need practiced and scientific farmers and mechanics from the North and from Europe to teach them. When this is done, our good old State will have arrived at that point in her destiny, when she will be ready to vie with her sister States in every enterprise promotive of the glory of our common country.

"That Glorious Old Patriot."

Such is the designation which the Standard, a few weeks since, bestowed upon Brownlow.

Brownlow made a speech in Knoxville, the other day, from which we make the following elegant extracts:

"I'm in favor of the test oath, and don't want it repealed, and it won't be, thank God. There are crippled rebels in Washington who want to govern this country, and I am opposed to letting them in. President Johnson can't carry a single State North of Mason's line but Kentucky, and I wish he could carry that State to hell." * * * * * * *

"Our State Legislature is at a lock—twenty-one members bolted. But they all endorse President Johnson. They have left two hundred lunatics and three hundred convicts loose to starve. I have provided money to feed them; if the next Legislature refuses to refund the money, I will turn the crazy and convicted loose on middle Tennessee. It will be the best physic they ever had." * * * *

"There are two 'human monsters' now engaging the attention of the American people.—Their names are on every man's lips. I refer to Sumner and Stevens. President Johnson is engaged in a bitter warfare against them. To abuse these men is the test of the loyalty Mr. Johnson prescribes. They are both men of ability and unblemished private character.—Stevens has sacrificed more for the Union than any five men in East Tennessee, and is a better man than any two men who ever lived in the South. I am not afraid to endorse these men as my own 'dung-hill.' We must all be Radicals or reconstructed Democrats. I prefer to side with the former class."

"Glorious old patriot."

TEXAS.—After weeks of delay, the State Convention of Texas has adopted the Constitutional amendment prohibiting slavery, repudiated the State debt contracted during the war, and repealed the ordinance of secession. The following is the language of the repealing ordinance, viz:

"Be it ordained by the people of Texas, in convention, That we acknowledge the supremacy of the constitution of the United States and the laws passed in pursuance thereof, and that an ordinance adopted by a former convention, on the 1st of February, 1861, entitled "An ordinance to dissolve the union between the State of Texas and the other States united under the compact styled the constitution of the United States," be and the same is hereby declared null and void, and that the right heretofore claimed by the State of Texas to secede from the Union is hereby distinctly renounced."

On next Thursday, the grand opera ball, so long announced and so impatiently looked for, will take place. Already the tickets, which are limited in number, are sold at a premium. It is said that lovers are in despair—their sweethearts having declared they would not marry them if they could not go to the ball, the anticipation of which has set them all agog, and turned their heads topsy-turvy. The seamstresses are overwhelmed with work, and never will there have been seen a like display of luxury.—In a family on Fifth Avenue which could procure but a single ticket, admitting a lady and gentleman, two sisters had a regular set-to to decide who should have the benefit of the ticket. The brother, who intended to accompany one of them to the ball, separated the combatants, and settled the difficulty by waiving his rights, and declaring that one of the sisters should don a gentleman's dress and escort the other to the opera.

Courrier Des Etats Unis.

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, April 4th.—Mr. Brown presented a petition for a constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal rights without distinction on account of color, which was referred to the Committee of Fifteen.

Mr. Sumner called up the resolution offered by him on yesterday, calling upon the Secretary of the Treasury and Postmaster General to report whether, since December last, any persons have been admitted to hold office in their departments without taking the oath required by law; and whether the oath has been altered or modified in any way.

Mr. Hendricks enquired of Mr. Sumner if there was any reason for calling for such information.

Mr. Sumner said that on last Saturday he called on the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, and was told by him that the oath had in many cases been modified to such persons in the South.

Mr. Hendricks did not see the necessity for passing such a resolution. He believed the Secretary of the Treasury to have done his duty, and to be an able and efficient officer.

Mr. Sumner said there was a law requiring a certain oath from all officers in the employ of the government, and no cabinet officer had a right to dispense with it.

The yeas and nays being ordered on the adoption of the resolution, it was carried—yeas 25, nays 8.

Mr. Sumner called up the bill to authorize the President of the United States to transfer, upon valuation to be fixed by the Secretary of War, a gun to the Government of Liberia, which had passed the House.

Mr. Ingersoll, of Illinois, asked, but failed to obtain, leave to introduce a resolution, directing the Committee on the District of Columbia to inquire into and report upon the expediency of repealing the act by which Alexandria was retroceded to the State of Virginia.

The House took up the report of the Committee on Elections in the case of Dodge vs Brooks.

Feeling in Washington.

WASHINGTON, April 3, 1866.

The news that the President had issued a proclamation declaring the Southern States out of insurrection created quite a sensation.—It was generally understood that there was something important going on at the White House. Several members of the Cabinet were rushing back and forth, and three or four of the Justices of the United States Supreme Court were closeted with the President for some time. All manner of rumors were afloat in regard to the questions under discussion. Among those which gained the most prominence was that the President had directed Secretary Stanton to turn the affairs of his department over to General Grant, and that the latter had been requested to discharge the duties of Secretary of War for the present; but all this proved to be an idle rumor, and was soon forgotten when the fact become known that the proclamation was issued. The radicals were furious over the news, and were decidedly chapfallen, it being understood that this shuts out all legislation hereafter under the pretense of the war power. This document has been looked for for some time past; but it was thought that it would not be issued until the veto was disposed of.

The New Jersey Senatorship.

TRENTON, N. J., April 3.—In the Legislature this morning a joint resolution came up to go into joint meeting. Senator Scovel addressed the Senate, declaring he could not surrender his position without dishonor, and would adhere to it to the end.

The vote was then taken on the resolution, and it was lost.

There were hisses in the lobby, and considerable excitement.

Senator Scovel, in his speech, was particularly severe on Mr. Carter and Mr. Raferson, of Camden, denouncing them as having grown rich on the sufferings of the people in the recent civil war. He offered to vote for any man who entertained the views he did. He said he was not urging his own election—he did not want the position; but that he would never submit to the dictation of any party or clique.

Important Decision by the Supreme Court ---Military Commissions have no authority over Civilians.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Some months ago Bowles, Milligan and Hersey, civilians, were tried and convicted by a military commission, and sentenced to be hanged. President Johnson commuted their sentences to imprisonment for life. The case was brought before the United States Supreme Court, which to-day decided that they ought to be discharged from custody, and that the military commission has no legal jurisdiction to try them.

Connecticut Election.

WASHINGTON, April 4.

The returns from ten towns in Connecticut give Hawley seven hundred majority. The remaining cities will increase it to nine hundred.

THE NEXT SENATE.—The Baltimore Transcript speculates as follows respecting the next Senate:

On the 4th of March, 1867, the seats of one Senator from each of the following States now represented in Congress will become vacant, viz: California, Connecticut, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Kentucky, Maryland, Missouri, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Oregon, Vermont and Wisconsin. The vacancy in New Jersey has also to be filled. These are now represented by eleven Radicals and four Conservatives. The Legislature of California has already chosen Cole, Radical, in the place of Mr. McDougall, Conservative, and Radicals are sure to be returned from New Hampshire and Vermont.

The elections to take place this year in the other twelve States will determine the political complexion of the Senators to be chosen. In view of the change in political affairs, all these States may be considered doubtful, and it is possible that a very great revolution may be effected in that body before another twelve month rolls around. As far as Maryland is concerned, we deem it impossible that Mr. Cresswell, or any other one who thinks as he does, can possibly be returned; and we reasonably look for favorable results in Connecticut, Pennsylvania, New York, Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin.—The Senators holding over may be classified thus: Radicals 22, Conservatives (counting Willey, of West Virginia,) 15, and doubtful 1, (Stewart, of Nevada, who may change at any moment.) Conservative triumphs in the election of this year can sweep away the Radical majority, and bring us peace and quietude on the 4th of March, 1867.

By way of San Francisco we have news of Liberal successes in the Southwestern States of Mexico. Tehuantepec was assaulted by General Figueroa in the middle of January, but valiantly defended by the Imperial General Prieto.—The Liberals were about two thousand men strong, and though they succeeded in taking the fort at the beginning of the action, they were finally obliged to withdraw after losing one hundred and sixteen men, among whom was the famous Mariano Matinez.

THE SENTINEL.

Friday, April 6, 1866.

CITY AND STATE ITEMS.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—Messrs. Kahnweiler & Bro., of Charlotte, offer a desirable residence for sale in that City.

Proposals will be received, for one month, at the office of G. B. Harris, Esq., Henderson, for the building of a brick Tobacco Factory.

Dr. L. Turner Smith, Granville Co., advertises a Colt stolen, on the night of the 3rd inst.

J. Kinsey makes known that he has received an elegant assortment of Spring Goods, which he will sell at reduced prices. Mr. K. is one of our most enterprising and popular merchants, and his goods are what he represents them to be.

Two rooms on the first floor of a dwelling on Fayetteville street are offered for rent. Apply at this office.

THE FLAG AFLOAT.—We notice the Stars and Stripes floating from the dome of the Capitol, in honor of the President's Peace Proclamation.

STATE GEOLOGIST.—Gov. Worth has re-commissioned Prof. W. C. Kerr, State Geologist.—Prof. K. has held the appointment since the death of Dr. Emmons. His qualifications for the position are endorsed by the best scientific men in the State.

CHARLOTTE.—The Times speaks in encouraging terms of the improvements going on in and around Charlotte. It says that "new stores have been erected, old ones have been repainted and repaired, and dwellings are receiving the work of the carpenter and the finishing touch of the painter's brush,—handsome and substantial fences are being built, and, in fact, a very decided improvement is going on all round, which bespeaks a sign of prosperity that we are pleased to chronicle."

ONE WOMAN STRANGLES ANOTHER TO DEATH.—An old woman named Eliza Wright was strangled to death, in Newbern, on the 3rd., by another woman who is said to be deranged.—The deceased was sick with chills and was lying in her bed, when the crazy woman came in, and, crawling up to the couch, sprang upon the feeble creature and held her throat until she died.

BOARD OF TRADE.—This Association, in Newbern, is now a fixed affair. The following officers have been chosen, viz: President, A. T. Jerkins; Vice Presidents, Sam'l Blagge and C. H. Taylor; Directors, J. D. Flanner, E. W. Gould, J. A. Leland, W. S. Walker, T. J. Mitchell, W. C. Whitford, W. C. Hunt and Alexander Walker.

For the Sentinel.

"Davenport Female College."

LENOIR, Caldwell Co., N. C., March 29th, 1866.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It is a source of congratulation to observe the very commendable interest in the cause of Education.

At no time in the history of our existence as a State, has there existed such a necessity for intellectual culture as the present. Four years of terrible war have left us but little, except the great intellectual and moral resources of the country. The ever-turning "wheel of fortune" has converted the pleasant homes of wealth and affluence into hovels of poverty and want. And that once prosperous and growing advance of our people, as a State, has been checked, by the untold misfortunes incident to the times. But it is hoped that these sad events may become the great incentive to the development of mind, in all the departments of learning.

Among the many institutions of learning in the State, permit me to refer to "Davenport Female College," located in the beautiful little town of Lenoir. This College opened its first session of the Collegiate year on the 26th day of February last, and is now in successful operation, with a large number of young ladies from different parts of this and adjoining States.

We have, for the President of this Institution, the Rev. J. R. Griffith, whose reputation is well known throughout the State. President Griffith recently had charge of the Female College at Ansonville, N. C. He has secured the services of a competent and most efficient Faculty of Professors and Teachers: Rev. Sam'l. A. Webber, "Professor of History, Ancient and Modern Languages," Rev. J. S. Montgomery, "Professor of Natural Science and Mathematics," Prof. L. F. Whitaker, Principal in the Department of Music, Miss Mollie Winfree, Instructress in Ornamental Branches, all of whom come with the highest testimonials from the best Institutions of the South. Besides this, A. A. Scroggs, M. D., is connected with the College, and will give frequent Lectures upon Anatomy, Physiology, and Hygiene. I would not omit to mention the fact, that the President has secured the services of Miss Sarah Rankin, of this place, whose reputation is unsurpassed in the State for proficiency in all the "Ornamental Branches" of learning.

The College buildings and boarding house are spacious and commodious, and situated on a beautiful little eminence, surrounded with the most beautiful natural scenery. The town of Lenoir is a delightful and retired village, celebrated for its romantic beauty of scenery, cool mountain water, pure air, salubrious climate and health. It is within 12 miles of the railroad at Icord's Station, via Salisbury and Statesville.—From this point to the College it is easy to obtain ready conveyance which is but a few hours drive. Besides, in the little village of Lenoir, we have the best of society, and three churches. And we have a "Literary Association," one of the members of which delivers a lecture each Thursday night upon some Historical or Scientific subject. The lectures have proven quite interesting and entertaining, and the public have manifested quite an interest in them.

The boarding at the Institute is $50 per session, including washing and fuel, which is cheaper than living at home.

The President, owing to his urbanity, kindness and strict attention, and proper discipline, is a universal favorite with the school and its patrons.

PATRON.

In Quebec they have been so afraid of the Fenians that the gates of the lower town were regularly closed every night at a certain hour. Any one in the suburbs requiring a physician could only get him by sending a message to the gate, where messengers were stationed to be in readiness to attend to demands of this kind.

A Radical editor, in Indiana, talks about "giving the lie." He doesn't give the lie at all; he prints his lies and sells them.—Louisville Journal.

GENERAL NEWS.

The news from Europe is full of interest.—Prussia and Austria are exchanging hostile notes, mustering armies on their respective frontiers, and the next steamer may bring us the "clash of resounding arms." There is, consequently, excitement on the stock exchanges of Europe; the funds are falling; and a pause has been given to speculative enterprises.

The Texas Convention has reported an ordinance authorizing the Legislature to sell the "Pan-Handle Country," the proceeds to be set apart for a perpetual school fund. Also an ordinance authorizing the Legislature to consent to the erection of a new State or States within the limits of Texas. Also a bill giving three hundred and twenty acres of land to actual settlers.

The statement that Gen. Grant is going to Europe is contradicted. He has no such intention.

The Cincinnati Enquirer calls the Reconstruction Committee "The National Smelling Committee."

The Virginia Military Institute, Lexington, is to be rebuilt very soon, all the arrangements having been made by Gen. Smith to secure this desirable object.

RICHMOND, April 3.—The negro celebration passed off to-day without any disturbance.—About three thousand men appeared in the procession.

The tide of emigration from Europe to this country has been very heavy since the commencement of the present peace, and is now at flood height. It appears that the total of immigrants arriving at New York during the month of March just past, number thirty-one thousand six hundred and seventy-three souls, being an increase over the arrivals during the same month of 1865 of seventeen thousand seven hundred and seventeen.

The papers in relation to the case of Raphael Semmes have been in the President's hands for several weeks, and the inference is that the proposed plan for his trial will not receive the Executive approval.

An Eight Hour bill has passed the California Senate, after being amended with a proviso that it shall not go into effect until the States of Massachusetts and New York have put a similar law into operation.

Dr. Hutchison of Mobile has adopted a plan of packing cotton in barrels, which the Mobile Tribune approves, as one calculated to save at least ten per cent. in cost over the usual mode, besides greatly lessening the expense of freight.

The trial of Sergeant-Major White, 178th New York Volunteers, for the murder of a young woman of Alabama, is on trial before a Court Martial in Montgomery.

The sum of $3,000 raised by the ladies of the Lutheran Church, Winchester, by their fair in Baltimore, is to be equally divided between the church and the soldiers' cemetery.

General Sheridan, after his recent Texas tour, stated his opinion succinctly and forcibly, as follows: "If I owned hell and Texas, I would rent Texas, and live at the other place."

A quadrille of so intricate a series of figures has been introduced in Paris that it has been christened Trigonometry.

Forney wants to be United States Senator.—The miracle of rising from the dead, unfortunately, is not in vogue now-a-days.

EFFECTS OF RADICAL LEGISLATION UPON PRICES.—About one year has elapsed since Lee's surrender and the rebellion was suppressed. At that time (April 3, 1865,) gold was selling in New York at forty-six cents premium; cotton, thirty-six cents per pound; flour, twelve dollars per barrel; beef, twenty-one dollars per barrel. At this time (April, 1866) gold is selling at twenty-eight premium, or eighteen per cent less than it was a year ago; cotton commands forty-four cents per pound; flour is sixteen dollars per barrel; pork, twenty-six; beef, twenty-four. With the heavy decline in gold one would imagine that a corresponding decline in articles of general consumption would follow; but such, we find, is not the case. Flour, pork and beef have advanced, and even cotton has gone up in price, notwithstanding the receipt of the large amount of two million bales, besides perhaps three hundred thousand bales that have reached market and not been reported. A balance of a half a million bales probably remains in the interior yet to be shipped. How are we to account for this advance in prices? How is it that the burdens of the people are increasing instead of diminishing as gold depreciates? The products of the South are coming forward and the value of the currency is appreciating. We think a correct answer to these questions can be found in the radical legislation in Congress. The disturbing elements there have kept the business of the country in an unsettled condition ever since the war ceased. With the return of peace it was generally supposed that the country would be allowed to recover its energies, and trade resume its accustomed channels. But the radicals, fearing to lose power, are constantly laboring to keep alive a sentiment of hostility between the North and the South, to arouse sectional jealousies and bitterness, to unsettle trade, and to increase the loads that are now oppressing the people. When will the country be relieved of the intolerable curse of radicalism.—N. Y. Herald.

PEACE.—By public proclamation of the President, there is peace. God grant that it be peace indeed—that the magistrate may enter and shoulder-straps move out—that law may reign and general orders go to the dogs—that the legal and constitutional authorities of the States may govern, that no more military commissions may mock justice, and no man may appeal in vain to courts for redress; for these things are PEACE.

And this is what Andrew Johnson means, and says he means, by peace.

He speaks with no uncertain utterance. Rapidly and comprehensively he gathers together those formal statements of the Executive and of Congress, which explained and defended the purposes of the war, and showing in a sentence that these are accomplished, he rather suggests than draws the inference that the war is at an end, and so declares.

He has thrown down the glove fully and decidedly—the great struggle between himself and Jacobinism impends. Let him stand firm and all will be well; and that he will stand, we believe with full confidence.—Pet. Index.

BOTTLED BUTLER.—In a letter of thanks to the colored ladies of Philadelphia, for the presentation of certain "rich vestments" to him, General Butler says: "Their soldiers (colored) in many fields, under my eye, have shown high courage, endurance, and enthusiastic patriotism."

We respectfully inquire, as a necessary contribution to the history of the rebellion, "What fields? and with which eye?"

Since the exclamation of an ardent Lowell girl on seeing the great Butler for the first time, that he "was the cock-eyedest man" she ever saw, it is submitted that his letter requires these explanations.—N. Y. World.

A Remarkable Case.

DISEASE IN WHICH THE LUNGS AND THROAT ARE INVOLVED.—Mrs. Phebe Peterman, Petersburg, Va., (Aug. 26, 1865,) says: "I hereby certify, that two years ago last June, I was afflicted with a disease commonly called the Bronchial Complaint, the pain and weakness in the breast continued to increase so that I could not bear my clothes fastened on me for the space of two years; I had great difficulty in breathing; a general debility prevailed over my whole system—so much so, that I could not walk up the steps without drawing myself up by the banister; had a continued hacking cough, which distressed me greatly, four times during my illness had Hemorrhage of the Lungs. All medical treatment failed to afford me relief; it was the opinion of my friends that I must die with the consumption; I was advised to use the SOUTHERN HEPATIC PILLS; after using three boxes, strictly according to directions, I find myself in the enjoyment of perfect health; I have a good appetite, have become as fleshy as I ever was; sleep sound and pleasant, and can perform any duty with as much strength and vigor as I ever did. They certainly have acted like a perfect charm on me."

☞ For sale by the Druggists. Directions accompany each box. Sent to any part of the United States for $3 per dozen. Address,

IN OPENING THE

SPRING TRADE,

I would return my most grateful thanks to the citizens of Petersburg and the surrounding country for the very liberal patronage extended the past season, and hope to merit its further continuance by holding out still further inducements.

My present facilities are beyond doubt unequalled, and no effort will be spared to place before our patrons Goods that the present market value will admit of, and in many instances much below, as we are constantly represented at the large auction sales, where goods are frequently sold much less than cost of importation. These, with

Many Other Available Facilities,

I pledge myself to use to the best interest of my customers.

The stock is now much larger and better assorted than at any time previous, having added a complete assortment of

HOUSE-FURNISHING GOODS,

Among them the most elegant for a case it fails to restore Gray Hair to its original Color, or for any case of Scrofula in the system it will not cure. Its occasional use will prevent the hair from falling off, and consequently prevent baldness. It will clear the scalp of dandruff and humors, and by its tonic properties it will cause the hair to grow upon bald heads, where the glands are not entirely destroyed or the skin shriveled. For restoring Gray Hair to its original color, for preventing the hair from falling out, for curing humors in the scalp, for preventing baldness, for producing a new growth of hair, for keeping the head cool and clear, this preparation has no equal, and we defy contradiction. Its effects upon those using it for the above purposes, will be found all we claim for it.

CLEANSE THE BLOOD.

When corrupt, or vitiated Blood is allowed to stagnate and fester in the veins, no part of the body can be healthy. It may break out in Pimples or Sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you in a state of wretchedness depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA purges out those impurities and stimulates the organs into healthy action, restoring the health and exciting disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurity of the blood such as Scrofula, or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Humors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, also Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints, and Heart Diseases. Try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and see for yourself the surprising activity with which it cleanses the blood and cures these disorders.

During late years the public have been misled by large bottles, pretending to give a quart of Extract of Sarsaparilla for one dollar. Most of them have been frauds upon the sick, for they not only contain little, if any, Sarsaparilla, but often no curative properties whatever. Hence disappointment has followed the use of the various extracts of Sarsaparilla which flood the market, until the name itself has become synonymous with imposition and cheat. Still we call this compound "Sarsaparilla," and intend to supply such a remedy as shall rescue the name from the load of obloquy which rests upon it. We can only assure the sick, that we offer them the best alterative which we know how to produce, and we do assure them believe it is by far the most effectual purifier of the blood yet discovered by any body.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is so universally known to surpass every other remedy for Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients, it is needless here to recount the evidence of its virtues. The world knows them.

Prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER & Co., Lowell, Mass., and sold by

RALEIGH, 1866.

LIFE INSURANCE NOTICE.

THE old and well established

Ætna Company, of Hartford,

Offers superior inducements to all who wish to provide for family or friends.

All losses are promptly paid. No case of litigation has ever occurred with this Company. With assets of $2,300,000, it offers to receive one half of the premium in a note and half in cash, and, after the second year, to credit such customer with the dividends of the Company, which are now 50 per cent. With a small outlay, $500, or $10,000, or $20,000, may be secured to the family after their annual providers are taken away. What father or husband would not feel thankful on his dying couch, that he had availed himself of every proper means to place those nearest and dearest to him, above the pinchings of want and a life of dependence upon friends or charity? 8,819 policies have been issued from the office ending Jan. 15 1866. The total income for the year 1865 was $1,681,339 57, total disbursements $527,905 24, leaving a balance to surplus fund of $1,155,245 33.

In Raleigh, a large number have liberally responded and promptly acted in this matter; yet many delay and may wait until it is too late. A man in this city lately left his place of business for his evening meal well and healthy, but never reached that home except as he was carried there to die. Had that man taken the advice of the Agent, he might have left $5000 to minister to the necessities of a sorrowing family. Delays are dangerous, procrastination destructive. But one says, "If I only had confidence in the Company that it would pay, I would insure." Well, it never has failed to pay, and to day is more responsible than ever before. It is patronized by some of the most sagacious minds in the land—men competent to detect and expose any deception if it existed.

THIS valuable Manure has been before the agricultural public, under one name or other twelve years past, and its character for vigor of action and permanence in effect is well established. Before the war, it was introduced, to some extent, in the Southern States, and was found to be highly adapted to Cotton, Tobacco, and all Crops.

In its action, it is as quick as Peruvian Guano, while it does not leave the land in an exhausted state, but on the other hand permanently improves it. This has been fully proven by years of trial.

COPARTNERSHIP.

NEWBERN, N. C., November 1st, 1865.

WE HAVE THIS DAY FORMED A COPARTnership under the name and style of

Whitford, Dill & Co.,

for the transaction of a Shipping and General Commission Business, in this Town, West side Craven Street, on old County Wharf.

To the sale of Cotton, Naval Stores, Tobacco, Lumber, Staves, Shingles, Corn, and all kinds of Produce and Merchandise, and also to the sale and purchase of Real Estate and other Stocks, we will give our personal attention.

We are Agents for Murry's North Carolina Semi Weekly Line of Steamships, between Newbern and New York, and for Sailing Vessels for Baltimore, Philadelphia, and other ports in the United States and for different ports in the West Indies. Thus it will be seen that we are furnished by our own vessels with the amplest facilities for the speedy transportation of Freight and Passengers. But in addition to these, there is a weekly line of Ocean Steamships on the same route, and a tri-weekly line of steamers by inland route through Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal to Norfolk, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York; hence Merchants and Shippers entrusting the transportation of their freight to us, can rely with confidence on its speedy transit.

☞ We will make liberal advances on consignments.

All letters addressed to us on the subject of freight or on any other business, will be promptly answered
